Congress Told State of the Union

GRAVE PROBLEMS FACE KENNEDY-IKE

Auto, Utility Taxation Urged By Ohio Solon

GOPster Sees Chance For Cities To Get Additional Revenue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Municipal taxes on automobiles and utility bills were proposed today as the legislature wound up its second week of work.

Rep. Edmund G. James, R-Noble, said he sponsored the measures to help the cities solve their pressing financial problems.

The proposals would authorize a maximum three per cent tax on gas, electric, telephone and water bills of private and industrial consumers and allow cities to collect a license fee of not more than $5 on motor vehicles in addition to the state fee.

Meanwhile, majority Republican legislators appeared to be intent on doing something for Ohio's unemployed.

They spurned Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's bid for short-term, emergency extension of benefits during a special session late last year, in the dying days of the Democratic-dominated General Assembly.

Now that they are on their own, they are looking for both short-term and long-term solutions to the periodic peaks and valleys of employment.

Hearings are due to start shortly on a whole series of bills aimed at alleviating distress caused by the present economic recession and resulting unemployment.

"Certainly," as a House Speaker Roger Cloud in a special prepared statement, "people who are in a state of severe need cannot be left without some source of aid. This will not be done in Ohio," Cloud declared, adding, "nor has it been done up to this point."

But, he asserted, while the legislature must meet the needs of those who are in want, "opportunities for employment at a good wage and for incomes which will keep Ohio's economy active and prosperous also are necessities."

The Republican majority in the House, Cloud emphasized, is not committed to any definite course of action until committee hearings have ended.

With the floodgates wide open, the legislature Wednesday received 47 bills—16 in the Senate and 31 in the House—and expected another flood today before weekend adjournment.

Among Wednesday's most controversial bills was a House measure to strip the State Highway Department of about $51 million in the next two years and channel the money to road funds in cities, counties and townships.

The move was suggested by Rep. Dan O. Taber, R-Gallia, in the wake of Gov. DiSalle's "state-of-the-state" message admonition.

Soviet Claims U.S. Buzzes 35 Ships

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union charged today that U.S. military aircraft buzzed 35 Soviet ships in various seas last month. The Soviets warned that such incidents must cease.

Minister Viktor Bakayev, at a news conference, waved a piece of paper and said it was a radiogram from a Soviet sea captain reporting that a British bomber was "raiding"—meaning buzzing—his ship this morning.

The radiogram, Bakayev said, was from the ship Sergei Kirov at the southern entrance to the Red Sea.

He said the buzzings took place in the Pacific, Atlantic, Mediterranean, South China Sea and in other areas.

U.S. Planes Used In Laos Warfare

VIENTIANE, Laos (delayed by censorship) (AP)—American-supplied planes flown by Laotian pilots strafed and bombed pro-Communist rebel forces Wednesday for the first time.

British, French and other European diplomats in the Laotian capital expressed grave concern the air raid—first reported in the six-year-old civil war—would trigger a retaliatory action by the Soviet Union or Communist China.

The Laotian pilots made their raid in four T6 observation planes armed with rockets, machine guns and presumably with two 10-pound bombs each. The United States had delivered the planes to pro-Western Premier Boun Oum's forces Tuesday as part of the U.S. military support program for Laos.

Study Decries Ike Space Plan

Kennedy Advised U.S. Prestige Is at Stake

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A study committee report sharply critical of the Eisenhower administration's space program calls on the Kennedy regime to recognize America's prestige is at stake in the race with the Soviet Union.

The report, made public by President-elect John F. Kennedy Wednesday night without comment, says the odds are heavily against the United States beating the Soviet Union in the contest to put a manned space ship into orbit around the earth.

The committee, appointed by Kennedy, urges determined effort and the spending of more money on the space exploration program generally—and particularly on development of more powerful rocket thrust for launching of spacecraft.

The group mentioned no specific figure in calling for additional spending.

The current Soviet advantage in firing vehicles into space stems from superior booster rockets. The study committee asserted there is "overriding necessity to provide more efficient and effective leadership" for the U.S. space effort.

President Eisenhower has stated repeatedly that America's prestige is not at stake in the space exploration race.

The Kennedy committee's report said: "Space exploration and exploits have captured the imagination of the peoples of the world. During the next few years the prestige of the United States will in part be determined by the leadership we demonstrate in space activities."

The committee was headed by Prof. Jerome B. Wiesner, a Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist. In making the group's report public, Kennedy announced appointment of Wiesner as his special assistant for science in the new administration.

MIAMISBURG, Ohio (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin early today destroyed the W. T. Grant store in the new Plaza Shopping Center here.

War-Threatened Laos Knows Little About Democracy vs. Communism

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Communist movement is chalking up gains in Laos. And the United States has little hope of reversing the tide without triggering full-scale war.

Most responsible officials here feel the United States will not take such a step unless Communist North Viet Nam invades Laos.

And these officials do not expect such an invasion.

This leaves two alternatives:

1. A political settlement benefiting the Communists because recent military successes have placed them in bargaining position.
2. Continuation of the six-year

Boun Oum's government had warned the Soviet government Monday that unless it halted its airlift of arms and ammunition to Capt. Kong Le's pro-Communist rebels in central Laos, it would take "appropriate steps."

"What are we—or the Laotians—supposed to do?" asked a top American official. "Let the Russians keep pouring their guns and ammunition in? And once the Communists are ready, is the Laotian government supposed to lie down and let the Communists walk over them?"

"Now that the first bomb has been dropped," a British diplomat commented, "no town or village in Laos will be safe from air attack."

In Moscow, the Soviet Union announced today that Premier Khrushchev "regards favorably" Cambodia's proposal for an international conference on the Laotian crisis.

The U.S. State Department said Wednesday that it was giving "earnest consideration" to the proposal for a 14-nation conference.

The State Department said today the American government is backing the pro-Western Laos government in its use of aerial warfare.

Other authorities recognized the possibility that the Southeast Asian struggle might be entering a new and more dangerous phase. The air strike against rebel forces, reported from Vientiane today, was the first of the long civil war in Laos.

Reaction of Allied diplomats at Vientiane indicated that Britain and France had strongly disagreed with the United States policy of supplying the planes which made the strike possible. News dispatches quoted the diplomats as saying that the Soviet Union or Red China might retaliate.

That possibility was foreseen here but the State Department insisted the operation being conducted by the government of Premier Boun Oum is strictly defensive. Officials also said that the Soviet Union had been warned in notes sent by the Laos government—and rejected by Moscow—that Laos would defend its frontiers. Soviet planes have airlifted supplies to the pro-Communist rebels.

The United States still hopes for a diplomatic solution of the crisis and welcomed evidence today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev may be thinking along that line also. Khrushchev said the Soviet Union "regards favorably" a proposal from Cambodia calling for an international conference on the situation. The State Department said that proposal is receiving serious consideration here.

40 Jewish Refugees Feared Lost in Mishap

ALMERIA, Spain (AP)—About 40 Jews trying to escape from Morocco to Israel may have drowned in the sinking of a Spanish-owned motor yacht off the north African coast.

Rescue ships reported they picked up 26 bodies and three surviving Spanish crewmen after the 65-foot vessel foundered in the stormy Mediterranean before dawn Wednesday. It was believed about 40 passengers were aboard.

Negro Student Suspensions Bring Crisis

Georgia University Riots Blamed in Latest Racial Dispute

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—Negro attorneys hurried to Macon today to contest in federal court suspension of two members of their race from the University of Georgia after rioting and violence erupted on the campus a few hours after they first attended classes.

The university opened for classes at 8 a.m. without Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, who were removed from the school early today by state troopers under a proclamation of Gov. Ernest Vandiver that emergency action was needed to restore order.

An uproarious crowd of students and townspeople estimated by police at 2,000 swirled about the dormitory occupied by Charlayne Vandiver university officials and Vandiver acted.

The young Negroes, visibly shaken, reached their homes in a patrol car in the predawn hours. Both declined comment.

Joseph Williams, university dean of students, announced their suspension "in the interest of their personal safety and in the interest of the safety and welfare of the more than 7,000 students at the university."

"They will be withdrawn until such time as the members of my staff and I determine that it is safe and practical for them to return to school," Williams said.

Donald L. Hollowell and other counsel for the students, were to present the suspension order to U.S. Dist. Judge W. A. Bootle with a request that it be voided.

Chief of Police E. E. Hardy called Wednesday night's outburst "organized rowdiness, led by strangers from out of the city." It followed shortly after further tension created by Georgia Tech's 89-80 overtime basketball victory over the university team in a disputed decision.

He said outside agitators capitalized on student tensions built up by the basketball game. Older persons were observed in the crowd, shouting "Come on, let's get them."

The demonstrators threw rocks at the dormitory windows, threw firecrackers starting fires in nearby fields and woods, chanted segregation slogans and yelled "Nigger, go home." Holmes was not a direct target. He lives off the campus.

Police unloosed tear gas bombs at the crowd and firemen hosed down the fires. Some police, firemen and bystanders were hit by flying rocks. One girl was injured slightly.

During the disorder a group of cars pulled up at the scene and occupants distributed copies of a Ku Klux Klan newspaper, the Rebel.

All 36 members of the police force at Athens, a town of about 20,000 were used in quelling the riot.

Teays Valley Board Accepts Plan for Electrical Heating

The Teays Valley Board of Education has voted to install an all-electrical heating system in its proposed new school.

Acceptance of the electrical heating plan was announced following a board of education meeting this week. Representatives from the McLaughlin Architectural firm of Lima attended the session.

According to Earl Gregg, Teays Valley executive head, the board made the decision following a long study. Members favoring the move said they thought the electrical plan would prove more satisfactory in long range planning.

Gregg said an extensive study was made for more than two months concerning which heating system to use. He said most of the research involved about a dozen buildings now using electric heating systems.

HE said one of the studies was made at Buchtel - York's new consolidated school in Athens County where electric heating is used. He said it is a successful operation there.

A $1,760,000 bond issue providing for construction of a new Teays Valley School was carried in the November election. A previous issue of $1,900,000 failed twice at the polls before the successful vote in November.

Gregg said a tentative site for the new building has been selected at an area south of Route 752 and the Lockbourne-Eastern Road, near Ashville.

Fair Weather Still Prevails

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Clear skies prevailed over a vast area of the continent again Thursday, while some precipitation was reported in other areas—mostly peripheral.

Fair weather extended from the southwest and the southern Rockies across the central plains into the Ohio valley and east to the Atlantic coast. But much of the north and central portions were under fog and low clouds.

Rainfall, which had been light, diminished in the Pacific Northwest, where it fell mostly on the coastal region. Rain fell in most of eastern and extreme southern Texas, with amounts ranging from a quarter-inch in the Fort Worth area to three-quarters inch at Tyler.

Chief Hopes U.S. To Remain Strong

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower described America today as standing at unprecedented heights, and asked prayers that future leaders will be able to keep this nation strong and at peace.

In a farewell State of the Union message, the 70-year-old President reviewed for Congress the years of his administration and saw them as a period in which this country forged ahead in foreign and economic policies.

But he solemnly noted that grave problems will confront the incoming administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy—The continuing Communist menace in many parts of the world and economic pains which leave "little room for complacency."

"I do not close this message implying that all is well—that all problems are solved," Eisenhower said. "For progress implies both new and continuing problems and, unlike presidential administrations, problems rarely have terminal dates."

Eisenhower's 6500-word message was one of a series of leave-taking statements before he turns the reins of government over to Kennedy on Friday of next week.

The White House announced that Eisenhower will make a farewell address to the nation over radio-TV networks next Tuesday night. He will speak at 8:30 p.m. (EST) from his office.

It also announced that he will hold a farewell news conference before leaving office. The time for this has not been set.

Since he is leaving office, Eisenhower avoided in his State of the Union message the suggestions to Congress for legislation which such a message usually contains.

He did tell the legislators that the budget he will submit next week will be a balanced one. By law, the outgoing president must submit a proposed spending-revenue program for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. In the nature of things, this will be subject to considerable modification in accordance with Kennedy proposals after Eisenhower leaves office.

In noting the problems confronting the nation at this time, Eisenhower said:

"Abroad there is the continuing Communist threat to the freedom of Berlin, an explosive situation in Laos, the problems caused by Communist penetration in Cuba, as well as the many problems connected with the development of the new nations in Africa. These areas, in particular, call for delicate handling and constant review."

The quota for this visit of the Bloodmobile is 200 pints.

Senate Liberals Defeated In Antifilibuster Maneuver

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defeated in their drive to strengthen the Senate's antifilibuster rule at the outset of the new Congress, Senate liberals took a glum view today of their chances for success later.

"A devastating blow," said Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., who contend a rules change is necessary to permit passage of meaningful civil rights legislation.

But Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of Southern foes of the move, hailed the outcome as "a great victory for the sanity, dignity and prerogatives of the Senate."

He also called it a rebuke for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer until Jan. 20, who sided with proponents of a change on a key parliamentary question.

The controversy, which has tied up the Senate since it convened Jan. 3, was shunted off to the Senate Rules Committee Wednesday by a 50-46 vote.

Democratic senators divided 32 for and 31 against the sidetracking move. The line-up of Republicans was 18 for and 15 against.

As well as the many problems connected with the development of the new nations in Africa. These areas, in particular, call for delicate handling and constant review.

"At home several conspicuous problems remain—promoting higher levels of employment, with special emphasis on areas in which heavy unemployment has persisted; continuing to provide for steady economic growth and preserving a sound currency; bringing our balance of payments into more reasonable equilibrium and continuing a high level of confidence in our national and international systems; eliminating heavily excessive surpluses of a few farm commodities; and overcoming deficiencies in our health and educational programs."

Cuba Needs Help with Harvests

HAVANA (AP)—With Cuban sugar production lagging because of bad weather and the call-up of the island's best workers for militia duty, Fidel Castro's press and radio today kept up appeals for volunteers to help harvest the cane crop.

The National Federation of Sugar Workers, many of whose half million members are mobilized against the invasion Castro charges is coming from the United States, urged all available Cubans to volunteer, "including retired workers and children."

A group of government textile mills announced it had recruited "patriotic brigades of volunteer workers" to help maintain the output of cloth.

In the 13 days since Castro mobilized workers from farms and factories to serve as citizen soldiers, there has been a slump in sugar and industrial production.

This is the first sugar season completely under government control and less than 35 of Cuba's 161 sugar mills have started grinding cane, industry sources reported. Normally Cuba's sugar harvest—mainstay of the island economy—begins early in January.

Despite the labor shortage in the fields and the mills, Castro still was occupied chiefly with his defense preparations. The newspaper Revolucion published photographs of the prime minister directing target practice with new 85mm antitank guns from Communist Czechoslovakia.

Ohio Idle Total Climbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports that continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more has jumped from 191,098 to 209,037.

Senate Liberals Defeated In Antifilibuster Maneuver

A similar liberal-conservative row in the House reached the compromise stage Wednesday. It revolves around the House Rules Committee and its conservative coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats which in the past often has blocked social welfare legislation.

Speaker Sam Rayburn settled on enlarging the committee as the least painful way of curbing the coalition's power to keep bills locked up in the committee.

Another way would have been to purge Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., a member of the coalition who bolted the Kennedy-Johnson ticket last fall. Under the compromise Colmer will keep his committee seat, but two more Democrats and one Republican will be added to the committee. This should give the liberal group in the committee the edge in voting.

The Senate motion to refer the dispute to its rules committee for hearings was made by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana. He had the support of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader.

Rusk Sees No OK Soon of Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Rusk, the secretary of state-designate, said today he sees no prospect now for establishing normal relations with Red China.

He also commented, in an appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that "we are very much disturbed by the events which have occurred."

But he declined further comment on the Cuban situation beyond saying it is "of vital interest" to the United States and to the Western Hemisphere as well.

On the subject of Red China, he noted that the United States has a security treaty with the Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa.

In addition, he said, there is the situation presented by the Red Chinese attitude that there should be no consideration given to the government on Formosa.

Rusk, responding to a question by Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., said that the question of Chinese policy is "a very complicated one" that will have to be subjected to continuous study.

"The presence in mainland China of a large and powerful force is one of the facts of the world we cannot ignore," Rusk said.

He made it clear that the position of Red China in any disarmament agreement and the difficult situation in the United Nations likewise contributed to the complexity.

Auto, Utility

that it would be deplorable to cut available highway funds now in view of the availability of 90 per cent matching money from the federal government for interstate highways.

Another possible Republican approach to the need of local governments for more money for road and streets is a proposal to finance operations of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety from the state gasoline taxes rather than from the state license - tag money. That suggestion was made in a bill submitted by Rep. Carlton Davidson, R-Lawrence.

A Republican bill, sponsored by Rep. Robert F. Groneman, R-Hamilton, was introduced to bring Ohio law into conformity with federal statutes with respect to federal medical care for the aged. There is a possibility, however, that Congress may change the federal law under the spur of President-elect John F. Kennedy before the Ohio law can go into effect.

Other eye - catching measures which filtered into the legislature Wednesday included bills to:

Junk the Department of Industrial and Economic Development and return its functions to the old Division of Economic Development and Publicity under the Commerce Department at an annual budget of $100,000 instead of $500,000. The new department is a pet DiSalle project which, he has said, may be one of the important achievements of his administration. The repealer is jointly sponsored by Reps. Terry Drake, R-Crawford, and Taber both veteran legislators.

Exempt farm bulk milk tanks from storage and use taxes.

Enact the uniform commercial code bill which apparently has picked up important support since it was ditched in the last days of the 1959 session.

Exempt sales of food by religious organizations from the Ohio sales tax as well as Bibles, flags, medicine and other health-promoting devices.

Extend the 1959 law re-establishing quail hunting in Ohio after a 40-year lapse to allow shooting of the bobwhite anywhere during the pheasant-hunting season.

Require boards of election to have paper ballots available in cases of voting machine breakdowns.

Give the state superintendent of banks a four-year term compared with his present two-year term.

Give employees of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction a 40-hour week instead of the present 44-hour week.

Create senatorial sub-districts in single counties which, in themselves, are senatorial districts now with two or more senators.

Fire Department Makes Two Runs

Circleville Firemen answered two calls here yesterday.

Yesterday morning Chief Talmir Wise was summoned to the Bowers Poultry Farm, Route 3, to investigate a smoking clothes dryer. At 2:30 p. m. the department was called to the Bessie Taffe residence on W. Mound St. to check brush which was burning.

No loss was reported on either call.

Students Hear Talk By Police Chief

Police Chief Robert Temple yesterday presented safety talks to students at St. Joseph's School and to kindergarten class at St. Philip's Church.

Criminal Case Goes to Court

A criminal case, the State of Ohio vs. Bud Howard Shepherd, New Holland, began at 9 a. m. today in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Shepherd was apprehended by the Sheriff's Department on August 26, 1960. He was charged with breaking and entering the US Post Office, New Holland, and Grand Larceny. He allegedly took $400 and a revolver from the post office building.

The court recessed at 10 a. m. today and jury members were taken to the scene of the crime, the New Holland Post Office, by the Sheriff's Department.

Leroy Hull, county jail, also was charged of being involved in breaking and entering the post office. Hull pleaded guilty at his arraignment in September, 1960, and is now in Pickaway County Jail awaiting sentence.

Robert Huffer, Pickaway County prosecuting attorney, represents the State in the case. Judge William Ammer is on the bench.

tried to make this sort of neutrality work. Both East and West apparently distrusted him. The Communists heckled him from one side, and the United States refrained from giving him whole-hearted support.

The United States has poured $300 million in aid, mostly military, into Laos in six years. The Soviets won a foothold during Souvanna's 15-week tenure. Feeling deprived of U.S. aid, he called on the Soviet Union for economic assistance.

The Soviets responded with an airlift of rice and gasoline, which was switched to arms and technicians when Souvanna fled the country last month and pro-Communist Laotian elements took over.

It is likely that 95 per cent of the two million people, easygoing subsistence farmers and villagers, know nothing of communism or democracy.

Most live in remote mountain and jungle villages. They do not even know that Laos won its independence six years ago. Many have not heard of Souvanna or of Prince Boun Oum, the current premier.

The bulk of American aid has meant nothing to them.

Some have benefited from American agricultural reform and irrigation programs and U.S. medical aid and sanitation measures, an estimated 2 percent of total U.S. aid to Laos.

A handful of devoted American agricultural specialists and health experts living the life of the primitive Laotians have won friends for the United States.

They are a drop of pure spring water in what is largely a sea of murk.

Muny Court Has Two Traffic Cases

Disposition was made on two traffic cases in Circleville Municipal Court today.

Donald J. Stalter, 51, New Lexington, was fined $15 and costs for speeding at 60 miles per hour in a 45 mile zone.

Emmett Walters, 62, Orient, was fined $15 and costs for passing a stop sign.

The State Highway Patrol made both arrests.

The Light Side

Lloyd Melvin, new county commissioner, sat around the office of Judge Guy Cline last Monday with some anxiety.

He said he would wait right there until the judge came in. When quizzed, he said he wanted to be sworn in. Seems Lloyd wasn't present when some other county officials took their oaths. The first session of the commission Melvin conducted business as usual, but hand't yet taken the oath.

When the second session began Monday Melvin wouldn't take part until he was "official". He waited until Cline came in, took his oath and then returned to the business before the commission.

Just so there's no confusion, it's Ray Jr., of Mt. Sterling, who's been added to the sales staff at Christopher Pontiac.

The next time someone says Harden is working for Pontiac, remember it is not the Chevrolet dealer of local fame, but Ray Harden Jr., Mt. Sterling.

Ray and his wife Jean have three children. He's been in the auto business for six years.

Kennedy Schedules News Meet on TV

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—John F. Kennedy's first news conference as president will be held in Washington the evening of Jan. 25 and will be carried nationwide on live television and radio.

The announcement was made by Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, at the president-elect's headquarters here Wednesday night.

Salinger had announced earlier that Kennedy would set precedents by holding news conferences at night from time to time, and permitting the TV and radio networks to broadcast them live.

There have been 17 Roman Catholic prelates, past and present, raised to the rank of cardinal in the United States.

Donald Colegrove Replaces Fuller as General Head Here

Donald F. Colegrove, 25, Richmond, today was named Circleville district manager for General Telephone Co. of Ohio.

He replaces Alan Fuller, 130 Logan St., who will move to Marion to become Marion district commercial manager. The announcement was made today by Clare E. Williams, president of General in Marion.

Colegrove was general commercial assistant in General's main office at Marion. He is a 1953 graduate of Richmond High School and received a degree in bachelor of science in business administration at Ohio State University in 1957.

He and his wife Nancy have a 16-months old son, Frank. Colegrove plans to move to Circleville soon.

Fuller came to Circleville in

Profit Reports Bring Cheer To Business

News Is Not All Bad;
Annual Tallies Show
Return to Optimism

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street is finding plenty of good news among the bad these days as the profit reports roll in.
The big drop in profit margins that depressed the stock market six months ago seems to have been halted. Fourth-quarter earnings mostly held at third-quarter levels, and many companies say they expect the first three months of 1961 to show the same leveling trend.

Corporations announcing profit gains in 1960 over 1959 outnumbered by a slim margin those reporting declines.

And in the reports Wall Street is finding still further proof of how uneven the business slowdown has been—many industries trudging steadily upward as others lagged. And also showing up is further evidence of a greater role for service industries, which mostly are advancing while the manufacturing ones often are ailing.

Among the first 118 nonfinancial corporations to report on their fiscal 1960 earnings, 64 show gains over the previous year and 54 report declines.

The banks and other financial institutions mostly report record or near record earnings. The railroads, however, are trailing badly. The utilities are expected to show modest gains when their full year reports are in. The one giant to report so far, American Telephone & Telegraph, shows an increase of 9.5 per cent in the 12 months ending Nov. 30.

The reports are getting special scrutiny today, not only by the stock market but also by government agencies trying to gauge their tax collections, and by business planners looking for any clue as to 1961 prospects.

Wall Street is taking comfort from the many corporations who have braked the slide in profit margins, which was sharp in the spring and early summer. Many firms have been able to cut costs, such as inventory carrying charges. Others have pushed the more popular products or services in their diversified activities.

And in spite of some dire predictions about the months ahead, more business executives are saying that they expect a pickup in new orders soon, with output gains to follow, and also better profits.

But they admit that in the current three months, profits may be level with the end of 1960 but still look bad against the many records set early in that year.

Adding it up, if business is slower today than many felt, the net results are still pretty encouraging.

New Chief's Plans, Problems

Kennedy To Be Confronted By Many Military Angles

Editor's Note—As the inauguration nears, problems facing the Kennedy administration in military affairs outnumber announced programs for solutions. In the fourth of five articles on the broad outline of Kennedy policies, an Associated Press specialist identifies areas awaiting important decisions.

Headquarters For Kennedy Crew Costly

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy's headquarters estimated today it is costing the debt-ridden Democratic National Committee more than $250,000 to finance the pre-inaugural business activities of Kennedy and his staff.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said in response to news conference questions that he couldn't speak for Kennedy on the matter, but that some members of his staff favor enactment of legislation authorizing the government to meet this expense in the future.

Salinger said that in addition to bills being picked up by the national committee, Kennedy—a wealthy man—is paying some of the expenses out of his own pocket. Salinger had no information on the amount.

Also, Salinger said, members of Kennedy-appointed study committees on various matters generally are paying their own bills. He indicated, however, that the national committee—which came out of the presidential campaign owing between $2 million and $3 million—is picking up the tab for some of these members.

In the face of the committee's big debt, how are current bills being paid?

Salinger noted that the committee hopes to raise more than a million dollars through sale of tickets to a huge gala to be staged in Washington the evening of Jan. 19. Some of the ticket sale proceeds are already in hand and the committee is having to dip into that money, Salinger reported.

Private Eye Author Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Dashiell Hammett, 66, who founded the hard-boiled, wise-cracking school of American detective fiction, died Tuesday. His best known works were "The Maltese Falcon" and "The Thin Man."

prove air defense, do more about protection against rocket-firing submarines.

If the incoming administration makes these and other changes in the nation's military program it will cost money—perhaps more than the $42-billion or $43-billion defense program expected to be submitted by the outgoing Eisenhower administration. But Kennedy also has expressed belief that billions can be saved by administrative improvements and curtailing service competition.

Beyond these programs which can be controlled by Kennedy and his defense secretary-designate, Robert S. McNamara, are other potential factors which can not be decided by national policy making alone.

Shifts in the international situation can influence profoundly Kennedy's national defense policies. He comes into office as new tensions mount in Southeast Asia as relations with Cuba worsen, as the future trend of NATO defensive strength is considered, as pressures increase for resumption of nuclear weapons tests.

Any one of many world problems can dictate the size, kind and deployment of U.S. forces.

An argument reiterated during the presidential campaign was that the United States had lost prestige militarily as well as politically. Democratic critics aimed particularly at the missile category. In answering a series of questions by the publication "Missiles and Rockets," Kennedy said during the campaign that he would send to Congress several specific requests, among them proposals to "accelerate our Polaris, Minuteman and other strategic missile programs."

In the same statement, Kennedy said competition between the armed forces must be minimized, that "our competitors lie on the other side of the Iron Curtain." It happens that the sharpest competition among the services at the moment concerns the very weapons mentioned by Kennedy—the Navy's Polaris missile-atomic submarine system, on the one hand, and the Minuteman and other strategic missile programs of the Air Force.

Available to Kennedy will be the policy followed by the present administration: a mixture of strategic weapons launched from distant or intermediate ranges, from protected sites and from submerged submarines, by plane-carried nuclear bombs as well as missiles.

But there undoubtedly has been duplication in the development programs of the services. Missiles closely similar in range and load-carrying capability have been developed independently not only by the Navy and Air Force but by the Army.

There are problems other than these strategic concepts facing Kennedy and McNamara. The budget, for one. Kennedy has said "defense spending must be based on the security needs of the nation not the pre-determined confines of a budget."

This statement is not unprecedented. It has come from all administrations of peacetime years. Always it has been countered by the argument that the shape of the military is of necessity patterned to that of the budget.

One of the first things the Kennedy may have to do is tackle the question of service dependents overseas.

The Eisenhower administration, seeking to arrest the dollar drain, decided that the number of families of servicemen living abroad should be halved. Angry objections came swiftly. It was contended morale was threatened, that military personnel might leave service by the thousands. The outgoing administration retreated a little, softened some of the measure. The new administration will be under pressure to void the whole dependents-return order.

The dependents' question is only a facet of the bigger problem of reducing the dollar-gold outflow. If the situation does not improve, it conceivably could influence the size of forces which can be continued in the NATO organization and elsewhere overseas.

Ike Takes Republicans Off Hook

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has taken congressional Republicans off a political spot by agreeing to be their principal—and only—speaker at a June party fund-raising dinner.

Eisenhower's scheduled appearance at an affair honoring all Republican members of Congress probably will mark his first political task after he leaves the White House next week.

When they shifted their dinner date from May to June to suit the retiring president's convenience and got his agreement to speak, congressional sponsors breathed a sigh of relief.

They had a star attraction without having to choose between any of the potential 1964 contenders for the party's presidential nomination.

Although they are welcome to attend if they want to, sponsors said they are not issuing special invitations to retiring Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a third possible contender, is one of the sponsors of the meeting as chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee.

End of the Vicuna Cloth

One of the most powerful men in the United States, until about two years ago, was Sherman Adams, former governor of New Hampshire and later first assistant to President Eisenhower. Important documents bore his comments. He was the man who decided who should see or not see the President.

But those were the days before the vicuna, a wild South American ruminant animal with hooves, strolled into Washington D. C., from the Andes. It was a coat of vicuna cloth, said to have been accepted by Adams with other favors from Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine, which led to the resignation and fall from favor of the austere New Englander.

Few persons had heard of the vicuna before the Adams case, but it has turned up again. The other day, Gov. G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams of Michigan was clearing out a closet, preparing to leave the mansion at Lansing to take over his new job for President-elect Kennedy as assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

He came upon a bolt of vicuna cloth, one of 48 bolts which had been given to each of the various governors in the days when there were only that number of states. Williams had lost his—it was tossed in the closet by someone who thought it was an old piece of burlap.

Williams auctioned off his bolt to reporters on the spot and got $5.50 for it. So unless a few more governors break their silence on the vicuna front—they weren't very vocal when Adams was on the pan—that should be about the last to be heard of the wild ruminant animal's brief but embarrassing appearance in Washington.

It had better step off the political stage in a hurry at that, before some cynic proposes that it be the U. S. national animal as the eagle is its bird.

Nobody Listens Any More

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Film producer Joe Pasternak has launched an open-ear campaign to save mankind.

"If people would just listen," he said, "think how much better the world would be! It could be a wonderful world."

"But nobody listens any more. In our vocabulary there is a period at the end of a sentence. But who listens? Nobody. We don't hear each other any more."

Pasternak, who is quite serious about his open-ear crusade, came here in 1921 as an immigrant youth from Hungary. He had a high school education, but knew no English.

His uncle, a factory worker, met him at Ellis Island and said: "You should have come 20 years ago. There was opportunity then. Now it is gone."

"He was a fine man," said Joe. "But he was wrong. Opportunity is always here—if you know what you want to do, and love to do it."

Starting as a busboy in a studio commissary, Pasternak tried to be an actor and failed. He then worked his way up from a fourth assistant director to become one of the world's top producers.

"I got good advice—and I listened to it," he said.

In 25 years his 75 films have grossed a quarter of a billion dollars.

Joe is a genial, sandy-haired, blue-eyed little man whose own struggle has left him with a deep sympathy for the underdog.

He embarked on his favorite theme—the price of not listening—at lunch when a waiter brought him boiled fish instead of the broiled fish he had ordered.

"He didn't listen," remarked Joe sorrowfully. "Nobody takes the time simply to listen."

"You go to a cocktail party and nobody waits to hear the punchline of a story. They are trying to think up one to top it even before it is told."

"Think how much better the business world would be if employees would really listen to bosses, and if bosses would really listen to their employees.

"Think how much better family life would be if children would only listen to their parents, and parents would listen to their own children."

"We don't listen to our doctors, our dentists, our lawyers, our teachers, our religious leaders. Worst of all, we don't even listen any longer to our own conscience."

"I don't mean we should be yes-men or puppets, but we should open our ears and at least listen until the other person finishes his sentence."

"Thank God, my wife listened to me when I proposed. 'I love you, and I want to marry you,' I told her. If she hadn't let me finish the sentence, if she had interrupted me—well, I wouldn't have three children now."

Joe looked at the boiled fish on his plate, took a bite, and sighed. "Period!" he said. "Thanks for listening."

Actual Dollars Go Abroad

By George Sokolsky

The export of dollars is still a problem with us. A professor who teaches in a university wrote to me that I was all wet about how dollars are exported. He wrote that dollars are not actually sent abroad in a package or a suit-case or black bag but that one goes to a bank in this country and makes the transfer. No dollars really change hands only bookkeeping credits.

A lot this naive professor knows. Imagine a dope importer going to a bank to get a letter of credit or to send a draft or some other commercial document! The FBI, the Secret Service, the Narcotics Bureau would have him in prison in no time.

The import of heroin cocaine, opium and marijuana is big business, involving hundreds of millions of dollars annually. The center of this business is in Naples, Italy. Luciano denies that he has anything to do with it, but it has increased since he has been exported to Italy.

To legitimize this kind of money, it is physically sent abroad, as is all tax evasion and tax avoidance money. One would not expect a professor to know about such ugly and miserable mundane doings.

If a real effort were made to go after those who have used tax havens, considerable American dollars would be brought home. Tax havens exist all over the world but Switzerland is the principal tax haven in the world. Many Americans have money there in numbered accounts.

Swiss banks act like fences in this respect. The Swiss refuse to give our government any information on the subject. Their profit on this dirty money is so large that evaders who are actually thieves. Perhaps the new administration will pump up enough courage to go after these fellows.

Again, the professor is wrong. In these cases, actual dollars are transported abroad because bank transaction could involve the thief in a felony—even if he put his money in a Swiss bank in New York whose books could be seized for inspection by various agencies.

Another way to keep dollars from going out of the country is to eliminate, as far as possible, the use of so-called civilian experts abroad by the Army. Men in the army ought to be found who in civilian life can do the work of these experts. Say that an interpreter is needed. Surely, out of our vast military force, interpreters in any language can be found.

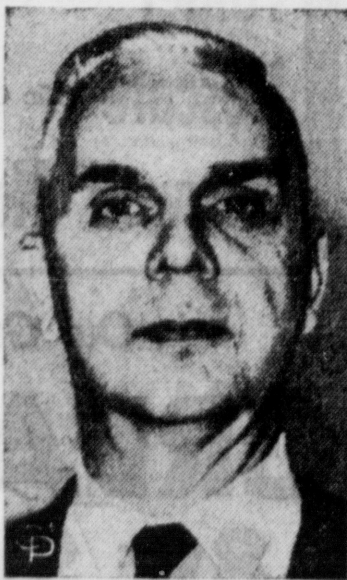

As a soldier writes me: "Those of us making a career of the military service expected to make sacrifices and we make plenty of them. We have acquired certain basic fighting skills, and we don't mind devoting a part of our time to maintaining these skills. But we have some intelligence, and we're making a professional career for ourselves. This means that we also are technicians and that we cannot spend all of our time (when there is no actual armed conflict) engaged in field exercises with a rifle in our hands."

"When our skills are not utilized as they should be, when highly paid civilians take our jobs away from us, and when public opinion holds that we are fit only for making senseless sacrifices, is it any wonder that we protest? We have intelligence enough to know that all of this is not in the true interest of national defense."

The civilians attached to the Army ought to be hired only if no one in uniform can do their work as well. If we are to have an efficient army in which officers and men re-enlist and make it a life career, there must be no competition between soldier and civilian within the Army. The unnecessary civilians ought to be brought back to the United States.

American tourists do not generally create too much good—will, anyhow. But that is not the point. They export dollars unnecessarily. In the case of tourists, of course, the professor is right. They buy letters of credit or get travellers' checks and they generally do not carry too many dollars with them. But in the settlement for these letters of credit and travellers' checks, the balance could go against us and the actual settlement might have to be made in gold—probably earmarked gold. Until the dollar is restored to sound value, it is not necessary to stimulate tourist activities.

AFFAIRS OF STATE—Roger Jones (above), Civil Service Commission chairman, becomes deputy undersecretary of State in the new Kennedy administration.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's raining recommendations.

President-elect John F. Kennedy, during the campaign and after his election wanted ideas on how to do better for the government and the people. He wanted them before he was sworn in Jan. 20.

So he appointed study groups which went under various names—task force, committee, study panel—to look into the problems assigned them and come up with proposals.

They're coming in now: recommendations which range from reorganizing the Defense Department to sending a peace corps of young Americans to newly independent Asia and African countries as technicians.

This is a big advantage for Kennedy. It gives him a head start in putting together programs he can submit to Congress in a hurry.

President Eisenhower was prodigious in creating commissions but he waited until he moved into the White House. The long delay in making some of the studies simply delayed action on the problems. The last Eisenhower commission—on national goals—reported Dec. 1.

Right now in Washington 2,500 people from all over the country are taking part in a conference on the problems of aging. Congress wanted this one and Eisenhower had to call it.

When there's a conference this size on any problem there should be no surprise if the result is hasty.

The unknown quantity about the recommendations being given Kennedy is what he will do with them when he gets into the White House.

For instance: A committee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., was the first group to report and called for a reorganization of the Defense Department.

Symington, under President Truman, had been secretary of the air force and knows the inner workings of the Pentagon. But Kennedy was careful not to give the Symington report a hearty endorsement.

He hadn't yet selected his secretary of defense, so he didn't know how he'd feel about it. He finally made Robert S. McNamara secretary and McNamara so far has exhibited no enthusiasm for Symington's ideas.

On the other hand Kennedy appointed a one-man committee, James M. Landis, a former Harvard Law School dean, to look into the government's regulatory agencies and make suggestions on improving them.

Those agencies—such as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Power Commission, the Federal Communications Commission—have controls in most areas of American life.

Landis, who had once worked among them himself—he is a former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission—turned in a bristling criticism on the operations of these government agencies with proposal for improving them.

Kennedy promptly assigned Landis the job of overhauling them. This won't be easy since Congress will have a strong say in any change.

The latest study group's report on welfare came Tuesday with recommendations which suggested a broad expansion of Social Security, public assistance, unemployment pay, medical education, and immediate passage by Congress of a program Kennedy himself unsuccessfully backed last year in the Senate—a medical care program for the aged tied to Social Security.

This very subject is under discussion now at Eisenhower's conference on the aging.

Other Kennedy groups have given him recommendations on distressed areas, the nation's economy, education, housing and the peace corps.

But the quick work of these study groups will let Kennedy lay down programs to Congress faster than Eisenhower did when he took over. Eisenhower, starting out, had his hands full with Sen. Joseph McCarthy and the Korean War.

40 Cleveland Job Hunters For Every Job

CLEVELAND (AP)—There are 40 job hunters for every job opening here, the head of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's Cleveland office said Tuesday.

BUC Director E. C. Schulze said the Ohio State Employment Service's local office had, at the start of the new year, more than 40,652 applicants and only 1,077 job openings. Of the 1,077 openings, 245 were for professional workers, 418 for clerical and sales people, 241 in service categories and 173 for factory jobs.

Schulze said more than 50 per cent of the job applicants are qualified only for factory-type jobs. In other words, there were roughly 20,000 applicants for 173 factory jobs.

Despite the odds, OSES found jobs for 6,653 persons since October.

Why then did OSES have approximately 1,000 unfilled job requests at the end of the year? According to Schulze, at any given time there are always a number of jobs and people not matched up. Since then, employers have sent in additional requests, but not enough to alter the dismal outlook.

"Employers are highly selective in a market such as we have today," Schulze explained. "They have a larger selection of applicants to choose from. In addition, some have jobs for specially trained people we cannot supply."

However, Schulze pointed out, there is a need for skilled cabinet makers, paint shapers, cardboard box makers and route men, such as those who deliver bread, laundry and milk.

Many jobs go begging because workers, as a rule, are doubtful about taking jobs as salesmen or rather than straight payment is involved, said Schulze.

Trumbull Commission To Shun Reservoir Plan

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Three Trumbull County Commissioners say they intend to pay no more toward the proposed West Branch Reservoir than the $1,750,518 bond issue passed last November. Commissioners Roy A. Tillwagon, W. B. Kilpatrick Jr. and Dr. W. A. James expressed this Wednesday after the commission agreed to meet with Mahoning County Commissioners Feb. 2.

Mahoning commissioners seek slightly more than $200,000 additionally from the Trumbull County Commission for the $14.4 million project on the basis of 1960 Trumbull County population. The sharing of costs was based on the 1950 census figures.

Hoax Bomb Report Delays Airline Flight

CLEVELAND (AP)—A United Air Lines flight to Omaha via Chicago was delayed here an hour and 20 minutes Wednesday because of a false telephone report "there's a bomb on Flight 711—this is no joke." A search of the plane was made, and another CF7 was used or the flight would have been delayed even longer.

Here Is How Ohio Jobless Pay System Is Operated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A visit to the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) is a weekly ritual for thousands of the state's jobless.

How does this jobless pay system work?

When a worker is laid off, he can expect a wait of about four weeks before his first unemployment check arrives. His first chore is to call at the new claims office and alert the BUC that he is out of work and eligible for benefits.

A clerk will ask him to list his last five employers, why he left those jobs, his dependents and a number of other questions.

Extracting this information sometimes creates problems. Some claimants can't remember the name or address of the last place they worked.

When the questions are answered, the claimant is told to return in eight days. His employer is notified immediately that he has filed a claim for benefits and has seven days in which to advise BUC whether he, the employer, considers the claim valid.

At the same time, the BUC makes a record of the unemployment.

GOP Chieftains Mum about High Silk Hats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Will a voter look down his nose at a senator who wears a high silk hat?

More to the point will the fancy headgear cost the senator votes on election day?

Republican senators will have to decide for themselves and then choose before inauguration day. The party isn't going to advise them.

The crisis stems from an indication by the inaugural committee that distinguished guests are expected to wear formal attire.

A GOP conference pondered the situation Tuesday and decided to take no stand as a group.

"We decided to let every man decide for himself what to wear on the occasion," said Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader.

"There may be some who will wear formal or semiformal attire such as striped trousers and short coats."

Another Republican senator, George D. Aiken of Vermont, takes a dim view of formal attire, particularly when voters are looking on.

Aiken recalled that he wore a top hat, striped pants and a cut-away coat at a reception in Canada in the 1930s for the then king and Queen of Britain.

"There were about 400 Vermonters there," Aiken said. "It almost nipped my political career in the bud."

Republicans at the conference, Aiken reported, held mostly to the point of view that John F. Kennedy's assumption of the presidency Jan. 20 "will be an inauguration and not a coronation and we'll wear business suits."

ed for the Ohio State Employment Service.

On the eighth day, the claimant again calls at the BUC office, waits in line and is told whether his claim is valid. Nearly all claims are good, but occasionally there is a man laid off by an employer not covered by the unemployment compensation law.

The claimant then is assigned to a reporting day, based on the last digit of his social security number. If the last numeral in his social security number is zero or 1, he reports Monday; if it is 2 or 3, he comes in Tuesday, and so on.

This is to avoid a rush on the BUC at the beginning of the week.

The following week—the third since the jobless worker filed his initial claim—he reports on his assigned day and certifies he still is unemployed.

A BUC clerk will ask him a number of questions, among them:

Were you able to work and available for work during last week?

Did you refuse any offer of work last week?

Did you, or will you, receive vacation, holiday, dismissal or severance pay for last week?

Can you accept a full-time job at once?

What did you do to obtain employment last week?

If the claimant passes this test with answers that he has tried to help himself and has no income, the claim is approved and translated onto a business machine card which is sent to the state unemployment compensation headquarters in Columbus.

In about a week he will receive in the mail a check from Columbus.

A claimant is entitled to 26 weeks of full benefits, but most jobless find other work before the 26 weeks run their course.

The full amount of the payments are fixed by law with a minimum benefit of $10 and a maximum of $42 with an extra $11 allowed for dependents. This is split into $5 for the wife and $3 for each of two children only, bringing to $53 the maximum benefit.

Benefit rate is based on the claimant's high quarter of earnings during the last year. If a claimant's wages were at least $84 a week during the best three earning months, he would qualify for the $42-a-week payment.

While drawing unemployment compensation, a claimant is allowed to earn money. But anything over $8 a week income means he will take a cut in his jobless benefit check. The $8 is based on 20 per cent of his unemployment check, rounded off to the nearest dollar.

Suppose a man is drawing $42 a week unemployment benefits and earns $18 in a given week. The first $8 of his earnings is okay, but the remaining $10 is taken from his unemployment check—and his next check will be for $32, not $42.

If the man were to earn $10 each week he drew unemployment pay at the end of 26 weeks he would have drawn only $832 of the $1,092 he might have collected without any earnings during that half year. The $260 difference could be paid him, if he still is jobless, at the maximum of $42 per week.

One condition the unemployed must fulfill is a weekly search for a job. In addition, the unemployed must get in touch with the OSES office at least once a month. Occasionally a claimant will ignore these rules, and his benefit check will be delayed a week.

GM Plant in Warren To Close in March

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—By the end of March, Packard Electrical Division of General Motors Corp. will shut down its plant producing fractional horsepower motors here. It will mean dismissing 326 employees, C. C. Rigby, general manager of the division, said Wednesday. He cited a decline in orders as the reason.

The motor plant, which has operated here since 1948, has assigned 170 workers to cable plants during the past year. Packard has four cable plants here. Workers displaced will have available separation pay, early retirement under the company pension plan and supplemental unemployment benefits—all in accordance with an agreement between GM and the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Negro Collegians in Georgia Receive Offers of Campus Aid

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—"So far I haven't felt any fear—even when students are crowding around me," said Hamilton Holmes, one of the two Negro students selected to end the 175-year segregation at the University of Georgia.

"I have faith that they won't turn to violence," he added.

"Several students came over while I was registering, introduced themselves, wished me luck and said if I needed any help, to call on them," Hamilton said Tuesday.

Gov. Ernest Vandiver's statement that he was closing the university in Athens touched off a noisy student demonstration Monday night.

Students yelled and booed as Holmes, 19, and Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, went through the registration process. The Atlanta Negroes, admitted by a federal court ruling, were trailed by large groups as they moved about the campus.

Several students yelled, "nigger go home."

"The average college student is intelligent enough to know and realize that changes are inevitable, and that they'll have to change with the times if they're not to be left behind," Hamilton said.

"I know we'll encounter some trouble, but I don't anticipate too much from students—I think most of it will come from outside," he added.

Miss Hunter says she doesn't think her classmates will be mean to her. She said she talked with some of them and got the "impression that they wouldn't be hostile."

Miss Hunter was graduated from Turner High School in Atlanta in 1959 where she was president of the honor society. She wants to study journalism at the university.

Her father is Maj. Charles Hunter, a U.S. Army chaplain stationed at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas. Her mother, Althea Hunter, is a secretary for an Atlanta real estate company.

Holmes was a Turner High classmate of Miss Hunter, and also an honor student. He plans to study medicine at the college.

His father, Alfred E. Holmes, owns a tombstone company in Atlanta. His mother is a school teacher in the Atlanta public schools and specializes in teaching children with sight difficulties. His grandfather was a doctor.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Unpleasant Memories!

DEAR ABBY: When I was a young girl, I had to cut across a cow pasture to get to school. A couple of cows chased me once, making those terrible mooing noises, and I have been terrified of cows ever since.

I've been married a short time, and have been having horrible nightmares about those cows. Then I discovered that my husband's snoring brought back the memories of those pursuing cows. We have a very small apartment so I can't go into another bedroom to sleep. How does a wife sleep with a husband who snores?

SNORER'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Go to a drug store and ask for "bee's wax ear plugs." They really work! There are several brands on the market but curiously enough, most pharmacy clerks have trouble finding them. You have to be persistent!

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the letter from the woman who has been getting anonymous phone calls telling her that her husband was stepping out on her. I was tickled pink when you told her to pay no attention to it. Only last week I received such a phone call from a woman who refused to tell me who she was. She said she thought I should know that my husband was seeing another woman. It just so happens I am not married. Sincerely yours, EVA

DEAR ABBY: When people you otherwise enjoy ask personal questions, what is the best way to handle the situation? I have been asked by this certain woman how much I paid for my shoes, taxes and how much my gas and electric bill is. I tried saying, "I don't remember," but the questioning continues.

I have to associate with her so I don't want trouble, although I feel like saying, "That's none of your business."

TOO POLITE
DEAR TOO: A person who would ask you what you paid for your shoes is starting at the bottom and working her way up to some dillies. With your sweetest smile and warmest tone reply, "I'd rather not say." Then change the subject.

Ohio's Idle Pay Fund in Jeopardy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Federal officials warned that Ohio's unemployment compensation fund could go broke if jobless payments continued to exceed the income from the tax on employers.

Eli M. Arterberg of the Labor

Department in Washington, voiced his concern to the Advisory Council of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation. He is deputy chief of the department's Division of Actuarial and Financial Service.

"If unemployment levels continue to be as high as recently, and as indicated for the next few years, and the current financing provisions remain unchanged, the reserve fund will continue to be depleted, sharply and substantially," he said.

"If those conditions last for any period of time, the fund could become insolvent."

Arterberg said the payout in jobless benefits has exceeded collections from employers for the fund almost every year since 1954 when the fund balance stood at $686.5 million.

The balance last Nov. 30 was $334.6 million and will approximate $311 million when figures for December are in, Ohio BUC officials estimated.

Arterberg advocated revision of the fund's tax structure to keep it solvent. His suggestions added up to a recommendation for larger payments by employers into the fund.

Charles Nowacek of the Labor Department's Cleveland regional office, asserted tax revision was the primary need.

Arterberg foresaw higher levels of unemployment for Ohio in the coming years, without speculating on their extent.

Uniform Fox Bounty Plan Is Pushed

PIQUA, Ohio (AP)—Uniform fox bounties to circumvent false claims is the goal of officials in many western Ohio counties.

Karl Koch, Auglaize County commissioner, has taken the leadership in a movement to reach an agreement among area counties of a system of equal bounties.

Currently, there is a wide variation in the amount of bounties for young and matured foxes, ranging from $1 for pups in some counties to $4 for older animals. Koch pointed out this could lead to county hunters seeking the best price for their fox slaying by claiming the animals were killed in the county from which the bounty is sought. Thus the county paying the highest bounty might end up with all the claims.

The bounty is paid because of the destruction caused by foxes to wild game, domestic poultry and even lambs and pigs. To collect, the hunter must turn over all four feet of the dead fox to county officials.

Koch said he hopes to include Mercer, Van Wert, Darke, Logan, Allen, Hardin and Shelby counties in the new bounty agreement.

Thrill Slayer Now Seeking End to Parole

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Nathan Leopold, sentenced to life plus 99 years in prison for a 1924 "thrill slaying" that stunned the nation, has asked that his parole period be cut to permit him to marry and to become a teacher.

Leopold served 33 years before his sentence was commuted. He was given a five-year parole term when released from Stateville Prison, Joliet, in March 1958.

Charles F. Kinney, chairman of the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board, said Leopold and his attorney, Elmer Gertz of Chicago as well as several persons in Puerto Rico, have asked the board to reduce the parole period to three years.

Leopold was paroled to work as a hospital technician in Puerto Rico and subsequently undertook graduate study in social work at the University of Puerto Rico.

Should the request be granted, his parole would end in March.

Kinney said Leopold wants to become a medical social worker and also to teach at the University of Puerto Rico. Under Puerto Rican law, a parolee can do neither.

Leopold also wants to marry a widow in Puerto Rico, Kinney said. As a parolee, he could obtain permission to wed from Illinois authorities, but the request was included with the plea for a shortened parole period.

Kinney said the board may express an opinion on Leopold's request when it meets next week and may set a date for a formal hearing.

Leopold and Richard Loeb, gifted children of wealthy Chicagoans, were convicted of the slaying of young Bobby Franks. Loeb was killed in prison by another inmate.

Miami, Toledo Chalk Wins in League Play

Redskins Snap 6-Game Loss Streak; Rockets Trip Bowling Green

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Coming through in the clutch keyed Toledo college basketball activity Wednesday night.

Toledo won a hair-raising 68-66 Mid-American Conference victory over Bowling Green when Larry Jones hit two free throws with seven seconds left. Dayton scored nine points in the last minute for a come-from-behind 60-56 victory over Duquesne. Defiance finally gained the winning lead over Ohio Northern with 58 seconds left in a 69-66 Mid-Ohio League thriller, and superiority in the last three minutes gave Kent State a 76-73 MAC victory over Western Michigan.

In other games, Miami of Ohio snapped a six-game losing streak by beating Marshall 71-68 in another Mid-American battle. Mount Union overwhelmed Denison 84-49 in an Ohio Conference tilt. Youngstown pulled out of a 37-37 half-time tie to whip Central State 88-72 and Rio Grande rolled over Wilberforce 90-81.

Toledo's homecourt victory gave the Rockets a 4-0 MAC record, to Ohio U.'s 3-0. Toledo shed an early 15-point lead as the Falcons cut the margin at halftime to 39-34. The outcome was in doubt until Jones sank his two free throws.

Dayton's scoring spree at Pittsburgh wasn't hampered by a Duquesne full-court press. In fact, the press proved the Ducks' undoing, as the Flyers made three free throws for the final points.

Defiance's win gave the Yellowjackets undisputed hold on the Mid-Ohio League lead at 4-0 to Northern's 3-1. The Yellowjackets had a 17-0 lead, but blew it by the time the second half was only five minutes old. At that time, Northern went ahead 39-38. Defiance finally went ahead to stay at 65-64 after the lead changed hands four times.

Western Michigan led Kent through most of the first half, but fell behind 45-42 at intermission. With three minutes to go it was tied 71-71, but Harry Kalbaugh's two free throws and Harvey Hunt's two-pointer provided Kent's winning margin.

In snapping its losing streak, Miami virtually eliminated Marshall from contention in the MAC race. Marshall trailed through the entire first half, but came back to take a five-point lead with six minutes left. Then successive goals by Gerry Saunders, Dave Zeller and LaVern Benson pushed Miami back in front to stay.

Betty Young Makes Top Kegler Effort

Betty Young, rolling a 209 single game and 536 for the series, finished as the evening's high scoring bowler in Prairie Falls competition this week at Prairie Lane.

This individual effort helped the Circleville Hardware team lead the field with a 828 for one game and 2,297 pins for the series.

Hamiltonian Indicted

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Hamilton man has been indicted by a federal grand jury on three counts of income tax evasion. The indictment, returned Wednesday, says George C. Ritzl of South E. St. reported total net income of $29,777 for 1955, 1956 and 1957 and taxes due at $6,915. The indictment charged, however, that Ritzl, operator of the Ritzl Body Shop, had a net income for the three years of $63,564 and owes taxes totaling $17,581.

State Fair Colt Stakes Estimate High

Ohio State Fair colt stakes are expected to reach the $105,000 mark this year, according to the State Fair harness racing program released today by Fair Manager Rowland Bishop.

The four colt races, which annually decide two and three-year-old trotting and pacing championships in the Buckeye State, head four afternoons of racing scheduled for the 1961 fair. The full program calls for 15 events with an expected purse total of $172,400.

As in past years, a colt championship event will head the card for each afternoon of racing. Stated on Monday, August 28, is the $26,000 Ohio State trot for two-year-olds. Baby pacers hold sway on Tuesday, in the $30,000 Buckeye State pace.

Three-year-olds face championship tests on Wednesday and Thursday, with the 26,000 Director of Agriculture pace the headline on the former date. The famed Governor's Cup trot, expected to be worth $23,000 is the feature of the wind-up program, Thursday.

Purses for the colt races, as well as for the maturity events expected to bring back to Ohio many of the campaigners that competed for championship honors as juveniles, are estimated, and could well exceed the expected figures with a heavy nomination on the March 1 deadline.

Blue Ribbon Defeats Elks In League Tilt

Yankee Farm System Falter

New Crop Is Seen Bringing Little Help

NEW YORK (AP)—The Yankee farm system which for years produced outstanding big league prospects to the parent New York club doesn't figure to be of much help for 1961.

Only 10 new faces adorn the Yankee roster and it would come as no surprise if none of the newcomers stick with the varsity.

Those with an outside chance to stick appear to be Deron Johnson, a third baseman; Leroy Thomas, an outfielder; and Jesse Gonder, a catcher.

Johnson, 22, is a strapping right-handed hitter who swatted 27 home runs and drove in 92 runs despite a .245 batting average at Richmond.

Thomas, 25, is a left-handed hitter who combed enemy pitchers for a .390 average while at Amarillo in the Texas League. After being advanced to Richmond, he hit only .246.

The Yankees acquired Gonder, 25, from the Cincinnati Reds' Pacific Coast League farm team at Seattle last spring.

At Richmond, where he played last year, the left-handed hitting Gonder, only Negro on the team, batted .327.

The best of the raw recruits may be a 21-year-old right-hander named Roland Sheldon. A former University of Connecticut star, Sheldon had a 15-1 record at Auburn last year, posting a 2.88 earned run average.

Lagore, Shepherd Pace Independent
Wednesday night Independent loop bowling's top single score was turned in by L. Lagore on a 227.

Charles Shepherd of VFW had the best series, a 605. The individual scores included handicaps.

Best team tallies went to VFW on the strength of a 987 single and 2,865 for the series.

The standings:
Reid's Insurance ..... 48
Blue Ribbon Dairy ..... 46

Duke Soph Downs Virginia

Comebacks, Upsets Mark College Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hey, man, this Heyman's still at it—acting like the sophomore of all college basketball as he and the Duke Blue Devils drive toward the regular season championship in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Just earning a starting spot on Duke's veteran team might have been honor enough, but young Art Heyman's doing much more. Like Wednesday night when the eighth-ranked Blue Devils came from 11 points behind with 2:45 left and finally edged upstart Virginia 92-90 in overtime.

It was Heyman's field goal with 35 seconds left in regulation time that climaxed an 11-0 burst and finally got Duke even after Virginia (2-11) had built an 81-70 lead. In overtime, it was the 6-foot-5 sophomore's soft push shot that won it with 12 seconds remaining.

Comebacks, spectacular shots and upsets marked the college program in general Wednesday night. St. Joseph's (Pa.) spilled fifth-ranked St. John's 74-71 behind Vince Kempton and Jack Egan in the windup of a Philadelphia Palestra doubleheader that opened with New York University's 70-67 upset of Temple. Army, holding Villanova scoreless for the first nine minutes shocked the touted Wildcats 64-49, and Dayton's Flyers beat Duquesne 60-56.

Georgia Tech rolled to an 89-80 overtime triumph over Georgia.

Maryand (8-3) got 16 points from Bruce Kelleher in a 55-47 victory over Georgetown, and Air Force squared its record at 5-5, downing Centenary 61-59. Florida (7-6) dominated the boards and rallied to spill Miami of Florida to its fourth loss in 12 games, 81-73, and Toledo (9-1) won its fourth straight Mid-American Conference test, 68-66 over Bowling Green.

Palmer Seeks Comeback in Diego Open

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Golf star Arnold Palmer launches a comeback today as 138 professionals and 13 amateurs open play in the $20,000 San Diego Open.

Much against his will, Palmer retired from the Los Angeles Open after only two rounds. He failed to qualify for the final two rounds, thanks to his 12 strokes on one hole and a 77 for the second round.

His composure, and very likely his game, restored, Palmer resumed a campaign to match all the laurels he won in 1960, which included the National Open, the Masters and more than 80,000.

The tournament scene is the 6,725-yard, par 35-36-71 Mission Valley Country Club. Sunny weather was promised.

The field is possibly the best in the history of San Diego's winter fixture. Twenty-eight of the 30 top money winners of 1960 are entered.

Prominent is 29-year-old Bob Goalby, who won the $45,000 Los Angeles open last Monday.

Goalby is seeking three straight tournament wins. Prior to the Los Angeles triumph, he closed out 1960 with a victory in the Coral Gables, Fla., open.

Billy Casper Jr., former U.S. Open champion, pulled the three-straight feat last year, winning the Portland, Ore., and Hesperia and Orange County, Calif., opens. Casper is entered here.

The defending San Diego champion, Mike Souchak, also is present. A year ago he shot rounds of 67, 68, 67 and 67 for 269. Par for the course then was 72.

Also here is Art Wall Jr., runner-up at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles will have two Aspromontes in the big leagues in 1961. Bob, 22, is the rookie infielder with the Dodgers. His brother Ken, 28, recently was drafted from Cleveland by the new Angels.

Chillicothe Grid Standout Lauded in Big Time Baseball

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A former University of Michigan football captain—from Ohio—with a gridiron heritage could become a name in major league baseball before many seasons pass.

John Herrnstein, a fullback three seasons and captain of the Wolverine gridgers in 1958, powered the attack of the Williamsport, Pa., team which won the 1960 pennant in the Eastern League. He hails from Chillicothe, Ohio.

Philadelphia signed him off the campus with an estimated $35,000 bonus after he also had starred on the university diamond as a pitcher and outfielder. Former Michigan baseball coach Ray Fisher called him the best player at the school since Dick Wakefield, who went to the Detroit Tigers with a big bonus in 1942.

Herrnstein's father also played football for Michigan and his great-uncle was on Fielding Yost's 1901 team that played in the first Rose Bowl.

Frank Lucchesi, who managed Johnny at Williamsport and probably will have him at Chattanooga of the Southern Association this season, says "He has all the tools to become a major league stand-out."

In addition to his batting, with a .305 average, 16 home runs and 85 runs batted in, Herrnstein showed good speed as a base runner and fielder for a 210-pounder.

"I remember one night there was a ball hit to right field that looked like a home run for sure," recalled Lucchesi. "Herrnstein ran back and alley-ooped the catch. The fence is about nine feet high and John had his arm out of the park when he caught the ball. He skinned his arm on the top of the fence."

"Usually kids of his size don't beat out infield hits, but he beats out a good share . . . A very determined ball player who wants to learn and will try anything to improve himself."

Johnny proved a tough luck football player. As an 18-year-old sophomore in 1956, he was a stand-out. He injured a heel as a junior. After being elected captain for

Tigers Set For Journey To Greenfield

The cagers of Circleville High School travel to Greenfield McClain Friday for a South Central Ohio League test.

Circleville, suffering a 45-43 defeat Tuesday at Franklin Heights, goes after its third win in 10 starts.

Greenfield also is having its difficulties this year. In its latest outing Friday, the McClain clan dropped a 63-53 SCO decision to Miami Trace.

One of the biggest problems of the young CHS cagers has been the battle with personal fouls. The Franklin Heights test saw the Tigers outscore their opponents in baskets, but drop behind at the charity circle.

COACH Dick Snouffer probably will draw his starting five from a group including Sam Weller, Jimmie Wellington, Clesson Thomas, Bruce Barnes, Garold Dade, Luther Johnson and Dick Kline.

Weller continued his steady scoring pace against Franklin Heights with 22 points. Wellington, a junior guard, gave the Tigers some solid outside shooting with five long one-handers. He also was a chief playmaker.

Greenfield probably will floor a tall team, but like the Tigers, face inexperience in some positions. The biggest McClain threat is Roger Grooms, a veteran cager who is one of the league's top scorers. Another letterman is Lee Morehead.

The Greenfield test will be the last test for Circleville until Franklin Heights comes here January 20.

Athletic Assn. Debt Lowered

Two Grid Seasons Are Major Factors

Profits from football gate receipts the last two seasons have been the largest factors in reducing the Circleville High School Athletic Department debt to its lowest level in several years.

A debt of $9,200 that existed at the end of the 1958-59 school year has been cut to $3,800.51 as of Jan. 1, 1961.

Actually the Athletic Assn. started the year with $2,435 in the treasury, meaning that the organization really is only $1,365.51 in the red.

Total receipts for the 1960 football season amounted to $7,238.41. Expenses totalled $3,030.75 leaving a profit of $4,207.66 for the year.

IN 1959 gridiron gate receipts amounted to $5,615. Expenses reached $2,890, leaving a profit of $2,725.

The Athletic Assn. financial report was released this week by Robert Ransom, CHS faculty manager.

Members of the athletic board said increased attendance at CHS grid games was a factor in the improved financial situation. They said valuable aid came from the local Booster Club which helped keep expenses down by purchasing certain equipment for Tiger teams.

Board members said they hoped the outstanding debt could be erased completely after the current basketball season and by another good football season.

According to the Athletic Board, much of the original debt stemmed from the purchase of new football bleachers here several years ago. Most of the current $3,800.51 to be paid is for the bleachers.

Ray Hayworth, ex-Chicago Cub scout, has signed a three-year contract with Milwaukee's Braves as director of scouts.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

A PTV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—At 7 a.m. Friday morning, the "Dave Garro-way Today Show" will start its 10th year as NBC's eye-opener.

As it was in the beginning, it is still a picture potpourri of news weather reports, interviews, book reviews, interspersed with gay banter and—sometimes—serious little lectures on everything from the beauty of shade trees to the dangers of nuclear warfare.

But the program today is very different from its pioneering days. "A show is like a plant," commented Garro-way. "The seed is planted and it grows and then goes through all sorts of changes and evolutions. It never stands still—and if it did become static, it would be fatal."

Garro-way thinks that, at the moment, the program is in a "narrow" phase—"too many men in business suits, but we'll soon get out of this and on to something else."

Steel Hour, CBS' live dramatic hour, Wednesday night had something new: An electronic card sorting machine for a villain. Well, it wasn't really bad. It was just out of adjustment so that it was busily mismatching men and women who were clients of the Blake Scientific Marriage Bureau. This was the hard core of a comedy called "The Mating Machine." The rest consisted of a lot of complicated misunderstandings. There wasn't much comedy involved and no surprises.

Recommended tonight: Family Classics, CBS, 7:30-8:30 Eastern Standard Time—first of a two-part adaptation of "Vanity Fair," with Diane Cilento; "The Witness," CBS, 9-10—Notorious Ma Barker, played by Joan Blondell.

Local Delegates Are Ready for Educational Conference

About 3,000 Ohio citizens including 10 from Circleville are expected to attend the State House Conference on Education at Columbus January 26, Lewis E. Harris, executive secretary of project, said today.

The delegates, selected at more than 530 local school district conferences held in October and November, will meet at the Veterans Memorial Building for a day of discussions on problems facing public education in Ohio.

Harris, who is executive secretary of the Ohio School Boards Assn., the group requested by the State Board of Education to manage the State House Conference, said that late registrations might increase the anticipated total.

At the first State House Conference held two years ago, he pointed out, plans were made for a crowd of 2,500. A total of 4,000 attended.

This year registrations are being processed by a committee headed by Melvin C. Koch, representing the Ohio Dept. of Amvets. The deadline for registration of delegates is Jan. 16.

At the state meeting the delegates will discuss the most critical aspects of problems raised at the local conference where citizens devoted their attention to the kind of education quality they desired for their schools and steps to take in order to attain that quality.

A general session speaker will be Mason M. Roberts, chairman of the board of the Peoples Bank & Trust Co., Dayton, who will give a businessman's view of education. Roberts, former General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of the Frigidaire Division, has long been active in youth work.

He is chairman of the Wilmington College board of trustees and a member of the associate board of lay trustees of the University of Dayton.

A general session speaker will be Mason M. Roberts, chairman of the board of the Peoples Bank & Trust Co., Dayton, who will give a businessman's view of education. Roberts, former General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of the Frigidaire Division, has long been active in youth work.

He is chairman of the Wilmington College board of trustees and a member of the associate board of lay trustees of the University of Dayton.

At the first State House Conference held two years ago, he pointed out, plans were made for a crowd of 2,500. A total of 4,000 attended.

This year registrations are being processed by a committee headed by Melvin C. Koch, representing the Ohio Dept. of Amvets. The deadline for registration of delegates is Jan. 16.

At the state meeting the delegates will discuss the most critical aspects of problems raised at the local conference where citizens devoted their attention to the kind of education quality they desired for their schools and steps to take in order to attain that quality.
